

DEDICATE REBUILT AQUEDUCT; WATER FLOWS INTO CANAL

Important Step in Getting Canal Back to Proper Condition

COLLAPSED IN 1949

Similar Aqueduct is Being Built at Tincum, 12 Miles from Durham

An important step in getting the state-owned Delaware Canal back into proper condition was taken on Monday when Senator Edward B. Watson and officials of the Department of Forests and Waters dedicated the rebuilt Durham Aqueduct, which collapsed on April 23, 1949.

As part of the dedication, the gates were dropped and water again flowed in the Canal from Durham to Tincum, a distance of twelve miles, where a new and similar aqueduct is being built.

This second project, which will again provide a continuous flow in the Canal as far downstream as New Hope, is expected to be in service by shortly after Labor Day. When it is finished, there will remain only a half-mile of canal to repair, all of it in New Hope, between the Ingham aqueduct and the River House.

According to Delaware Canal records the Durham Aqueduct was built in the late winter of 1870. This portion of the canal was always closed down during winters because it was found that the canal could not be operated satisfactorily during the months of January, February and the first half of March. Normally canal operations were started between the months of late March and April. The canal was in its greatest freight carrying capacity.

MORRISVILLE MAY AMEND ZONING LAW

Want To Change Law To Permit Construction of Public Garage

HEARING TO BE HELD

MORRISVILLE, June 13 — Borough council, last night, approved a motion to advertise an amendment to the existing zoning ordinance to permit the construction of public garages in "C" residential areas. A public hearing on the amendment will be held Tuesday, June 26th.

The amendment was introduced by Councilman Albert Greco after letters were read from the Board of Adjustment and the Planning Commission recommending that there be no changes made in the present zones, as they now stand.

The question originally arose when neighbors on Robertson avenue objected to the construction of a public garage on that street by the Piscopo Brothers. Council recommended that the area be changed from a "C" residential to a "B" business district to permit the garage to operate as a hobby. The recommendation was turned down by the Board of Adjustment and the Planning Commission.

Harry F. Christ, president of the Morrisville Midget League, presented a request that the council lease to the league a plot of land on the Island Park for the erection of a Little League Ball Park. On a unanimous vote, the borough solicitor was instructed to draw up the lease for presentation to the council at its next meeting.

A request from residents of Osborne avenue that the section of that street from Lafayette street westward be given a top dressing was approved and added to the borough street dressing program.

The Barrett Paving Co. was awarded the contract for supplying the borough with its street dressing.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

The Wage Stabilization Board unanimously approved pay rises for the nation's railroad trainmen averaging 5.3 per cent more than the board's formula.

A Congressional inquiry will open tonight to learn whether the beef shortage is the result of a "strike" by the industry against controls. Mobilization Director Wilson said the price rollbacks stand.

A House committee approved a 10 per cent tax on bets placed with bookmakers, increases in cigarette and alcoholic beverage levies and exemption for non-profit musical groups from the 20 per cent Federal admissions tax. In an economy drive, the Senate, 58 to 24, slashed the Labor Department's and Federal Security Agency's payrolls 10 per cent and ordered a similar cut in the independent offices bill.

Manchuria might have been saved and Soviet domination in Asia prevented had General MacArthur in 1945 not "refused" to give him seven divisions to occupy "the Ruhr of the Far East," Lieut. Gen. Wedemeyer asserted. Now, he told the Senate MacArthur inquiry, the Russians have a strategic initiative, and a line must be drawn beyond which they cannot be permitted to go.

THE WAR

TOKYO — Artillery and air-supported Allied troops pushed deep into the heart of North Korea's "iron triangle" today in pursuit of fleeing Red forces but in some sectors they failed to make contact with the enemy.

Rearguard resistance still remained stubborn outside of the "iron triangle" along the 100-mile front.

An Eighth Army communique reported that Allied troops failed to find any enemy defense north of the Yonchon-Chorwon area on the west central front. Chorwon was the southwestern anchor of the enemy's crumbled triangular supply and staging base.

North of Kumhwa on the right leg of the triangle, enemy resistance was described as moderate. Allied forces engaged well-entrenched enemy troops in the sector above Kumhwa.

United Nations forces captured or destroyed large quantities of Communist munitions and equipment as they advanced.

TOKYO — Tokyo buzzed today with the strongest peace rumors since the Korean war began nearly a year ago. Despite denials, the belief persisted among some officials in Tokyo that when Defense Secretary Marshall visited the Far East last week he brought word from Washington of an impending peace move.

LETTERS KINDLE WARM FRIENDSHIP

Morrisville Woman and A Woman in Greece Exchange Letters

SPOUSES WAR VICTIMS

MORRISVILLE, June 13 — Letters between a young Morrisville woman whose husband was killed in Korea and a Greek mother of two children, whose husband was killed fighting the Communists about 50 miles from his home, have kindled a warm friendship.

The local woman is Mrs. Josephine Kaczor of 648 Osborne avenue, whose husband Sergeant Casimir Kaczor, was killed September 2, 1950, while fighting with the U. S. Army in Korea. And several thousand miles away in Greece is a young mother who can't read or write English, who has an uncle take care of her correspondence to her "dear overseas American friend Josephine."

The correspondence began six months ago when Mrs. Anastasia Serafinowicz of Kalamaki, Drama, Greece, saw a picture of Sergeant Kaczor when the war department announced his death. The paper had been wrapped in a box sent to an old woman of the village.

Since that time, Mrs. Kaczor, mother of eight-year-old Tommy, has sent two boxes of used clothing and is now preparing another for her overseas friend, Mrs. Serafinowicz, despite apparent poverty, plans to send handiwork and lace in return.

"My husband was killed three years ago fighting against Communists," Mrs. Kaczor wrote.

TEACHERS AND THE SMITH ACT

Teachers and college professors who have been attempting to argue that constitutional freedom of speech gives them carte blanche to teach what they please to their students are due for a shock when they get around to reading the opinion of Chief Justice Vinson in the case of eleven convicted Communists.

The Chief Justice devoted a considerable part of his exposition of the Smith Act, which was under attack, to an explanation of the status of teaching under the Constitution and under this Federal anti-subversive statute.

To begin with, as Justice Vinson put it, the Supreme Court rejects "any principle of governmental helplessness in the face of preparation for revolution."

Going further, he took up specifically a line of reasoning which has been frequently advanced by radical educators:

"One of the bases for the contention that the means which Congress has employed (i.e., the Smith Act) are invalid takes the form of an attack on the face of the statute on the grounds, that, by its terms, it prohibits academic discussion of the merits of Marxism-Leninism, that it stifles ideas, and is contrary to all concepts of a free speech and a free press . . .

"The very language of the Smith Act negates the interpretation which petitioners would have us impose on that act. It is directed at advocacy, not discussion. Thus, the trial judge properly charged the jury that they could not convict if they found that petitioners did 'no more than pursue peaceful studies and discussions or teaching and advocacy in the realm of MORRISVILLE, June 13 — Work is now underway on the construction of a two-story addition to the Morrisville Bank.

The contract has been awarded to the Henry R. Fell Company of Trenton. Theodore R. Palmer is the architect. Although the contract price was not announced, it is estimated that the new building, along with fixtures, new equipment, etc., will cost about $100,000.

POLIO DAYS AHEAD

The "polio season" is at hand again, though the label is something of a misnomer. It is possible to get poliomyelitis in any month of the year, and only a very few persons fall victim to it even during a "polio season." But as nearly half its victims suffer some lasting effects, ranging from slight crippling to death, it is a dreaded disease.

So this is a good time to keep in mind the counsel of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis:

Don't get overtired or chilled. Don't go on a pleasure trip to another area without ascertaining from a doctor or health department whether there is a polio epidemic there. Postpone mouth or throat operations if there is polio around.

And, of course, follow the elementary rules of good hygiene and sanitation by washing hands before eating, not using other people's dishes, silverware, towels, etc.

It is better, says the foundation, for children to play with their regular friends, rather than with "new people." They should be put to bed and a doctor called when they develop some of these symptoms: Headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back muscular soreness, extreme tiredness, trouble in breathing or swallowing.

Such symptoms do not necessarily mean polio—they can accompany other and relatively harmless disorders—but in case of polio quick action may lessen complications.

The foundation's advice makes a good checklist for parents. It is worth remembering that adults, though less susceptible, can fall victim to polio, too.

IT'S DANGEROUS

The friendliness and helpfulness which once were among the pleasant characteristics of Americans are rapidly being destroyed by the vicious and the depraved. No one in his right mind will stop on a highway after dark to help a fellow traveler with a disabled car. Too often the appearance of disability is a lure prepared by robbers.

Similarly the sensible motorist no longer picks up hitchhikers. FBI Director Hoover shows why this kindness is dangerous. Cases reported to the FBI include an increasing number involving "individuals who pick up strangers along the highway and are later victimized, robbed and in some instances murdered."

There is no way the obliging motorist can tell whether the stranger will turn out to be a pleasant traveling companion or a desperado. Use a "great deal of discretion" in picking up hitchhikers, urges Mr. Hoover. The best form of discretion is not to pick up any of them, however innocent their appearance.

A reformed counterfeiter says he finally had to quit when it became apparent the real stuff would never be worth much again.

School Board To Underwrite Playgrounds

Discussion was held on the use of the school playgrounds this summer. The board authorized the use of the playgrounds and to underwrite the cost of the playground program not to exceed $1800. It was pointed out that the State will pay part of the program.

Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of schools, in reporting to the board, said: "One of the most successful graduation programs was held Tuesday, June 5th, with the largest class and one of the largest audiences we have ever had."

Mr. Snyder stated: "That pre-approval for adult extension activities for the summer program were being developed. It is anticipated that there will be about 90 for the music program which will be operated by Mr. Hornberger and Mr. Ryglewicz. Mr. Lester Michael expects to enroll about 25 adults in the driver training program. All such programs require pre-approval from Harrisburg before they can be operated, in order that funds may be set aside for the operating of them." The Board approved the summer programs.

For teachers who have been with the school three years or less, satisfactory ratings were issued to the following: Harold Ferguson, Mrs. Margaret Faust, Mrs. Betty Briggs, Miss Mary E. Finegan, Mrs. Mildred Lefferts, William Bagley, John Federico, Edward Ryglewicz, Valentine Seidle, Miss Barbara Yerkes, and Miss Cecelia Seymore.

Mr. Snyder recommended that permanent employee contracts be issued to: Miss Barbara Yerkes, John Federico, and Anthony D'Angelo. These persons have two years of satisfactory teaching, and now may receive the permanent programs permitted by law. The Board approved the issuing of the permanent contracts.

Mrs. Allene Lange has concluded three years of satisfactory teaching in the Bristol Schools and is entitled for recommendation to the State Department for a permanent certificate. Mr. Snyder told the board. The Board recommended the permanent certificate from the state.

Resignations from the following teachers were received and accepted by the board: Mrs. Betty Briggs, fourth grade teacher at Wood street; Mrs. Clara Blitz, and Mrs. Frances Sabol, kindergarten teacher.

Mr. Snyder recommended the following transfers: Miss Bertha Ruth, from Jefferson avenue sixth grade to the Wood street fourth grade; Mrs. Molly Duffy, from Wood street third grade to kindergarten at Bath street; Mrs. Helen Louise Kent, who substituted for two years in Mrs. Blitz's place, be retained as the first grade teacher at Bath street; Mrs. Helen Vickers from the first grade at Harrison to the third grade at Washington street. As of the present date this leaves positions to be filled as follows: the fourth grade and sixth grade at Jefferson avenue. The board approved the recommendations and transfers.

The contract for the servicing of typewriters for the 1951-52 school year was awarded to Pryor Typewriter Company of Trenton at a price of $3 per machine.

"nial rebels," she writes, "when guarding a railroad bridge about 50 miles from home. Communist rebels attacked them. They fought bravely until morning and at 4 o'clock those Godless Communist bullets struck my beloved husband's head and killed him. The government brought the body here."

She gets a pension of about $14 in American money, she writes, and has two children, aged four and seven and a 22-year-old brother in the army. Expressing her appreciation for Mrs. Kaczor's boxes, she writes "Oh, how we were happy when we got your lovely letter and the kids were more happy for the toys and candies."

The letters, written in a fine hand by her uncle who learned English at the American Missionary School in Turkey, cannot express with enough emphasis the heartfelt thanks her family has for Mrs. Kaczor's thoughtfulness in sending the parcels. In her last note, she relates that the tobacco planting season was in progress. "I am working but the wage is about $1.25 a day for 12 hours. It will last only two weeks and later I can work at harvest, which is also about two weeks."

"With the great U. S. aid, Our Heavenly Father granted us the victory over the Communist rebels. We hope and pray that the cry which was first heard a long time ago about the Judean Hills 'Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth Peace, good will toward men' shall be heard again in the stress and worry of our days," Mrs. Serafidu said.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

KEEP that beanpot handy. It has uses other than for preparing Boston's famous Saturday night supper. One of the functions providing the beanpot a versatile cooking unit involves fowl—those birds you might ignore as too tough for routine methods.

Even an old bird can reach your dinner table as tender and flavorful as spring chicken when it arrives as "chicken in the beanpot." Recommended this week by A & P's Service for Homemakers.

Cut your fowl into serving pieces and place in the beanpot along with a small, uncut onion. Add salt and pepper. Fill the pot with water barely to the cover. Cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) for about three hours. Cover beanpot while cooking during the first two hours, then uncover for the remainder of the cooking time. Remove chicken pieces, skim off fat and thicken gravy.

While we're speaking of the beanpot, let's turn to its original purpose. Traditionally, Boston baked beans are made with molasses. For baked beans of lighter color, firmer texture and sweeter taste, eliminate the molasses and use white sugar.

To make beans in this fashion, soak two cups of pea beans overnight in cold water. Drain, place in beanpot and add two-thirds cup of sugar. Top with thick slices of salt pork. Add water barely to cover the pork. Bake in a slow (300° F.) oven for eight hours, adding water every few hours until the top layer of beans is moist. Banana fritters served with catsup are a tasty addition to these baked beans.

Is the Decline of National Ethics Fault of Education?

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THE recent revelations of bribery in connection with certain college basketball players, and of connections between so many persons in local and national government with organized crime, have shocked our nation. These disclosures have been leading to criminal prosecutions and convictions, and the number of influential persons involved in the roundup, already appalling, manifestly will increase.

But, what is more insidious and far-reaching, is the disclosure that the use of personal influence to reward friends financially in a way to evade the law, by persons elected or appointed to serve in our representative government, is so widespread. Of course, an aroused public can "turn the rascals out." But how can we be sure there won't be many more new rascals by and by?

Philosophy of Education

Are all these distressing revelations a symptom of something deeper and wider than politics? Might it indicate a general decline of moral sensitivities spreading throughout our population? Could it have any relation to the philosophy and practice of education at home and school under which most of our present adults have been brought up, and under which most children are now being reared?

There was a time when teachers supposed they should often talk with their children about what is right and what is wrong and did not hesitate to say, "This is right," or "That is wrong." They often used the word "conscience." They believed they could teach character with words as well as through good practice, when they had the esteem of their children.

Social Situations

But early in this century there developed a philosophy of education which said, "You can't teach character with words, you can do it only by practicing children in desirable social situations. Then they will just naturally see for themselves what is right and what is wrong."

Accordingly what is right or what is wrong is wholly a relative matter. There are no eternal principles of rightness and wrongness. The word "conscience" has practically disappeared from books and teachings on education at school or at home. Teachers in Sunday schools and character building groups have, like sheep, followed the few bellwethers. Even parents seem to suppose there is little use to talk with their children about what is right and what is wrong even in the most favorable family atmosphere. Moreover, parents have been led to suppose they should not restrain their children or require them to do what they don't feel like doing lest they frustrate them and warp their personalities.

Perhaps the apparent decline in national ethics is the natural product of our philosophy and practice of education. What do you think about it?

Immediately after the Civil War, this single span was 65 feet between the massive stone abutments. It had a steel framework with a wooden trough for the canal area.

When this structure collapsed it was a complete loss as none of the metal parts or timbers were usable thereafter. The scrap was salvaged and there was a total of 47,405 pounds of unserviceable material which was sold to a junk contractor at the rate of $30 per ton. The plans for rebuilding this aqueduct were prepared in the District office and called for rebuilding of the abutments and placing thereon two 36-inch wide flange I-beams; 8 feet 6 inch centre to centre and a welded floor placed between these I-beams thus creating a flume to carry the water of the Delaware Canal.

The steel had been painted with two coats of red lead and the entire inner surface of the flume has been given a coat of bitumastic compound. The welding was completed on May 31st.

Legislation To Aid Falls Schools

the one per cent transfer tax on real property. This bill if approved may reduce the possible operating deficit of the school board, county authorities indicated by as much as $100,000. If this bill is not enacted into law it is altogether possible that Falls Township Board would have $100,000 in a special bank account and not be permitted to use the money, while it is short as much as a quarter of million dollars. Regional Superintendent Medill Bair last reported to the county that if H. B. 1351 is not enacted, Falls may be deprived of over $175,000 of local taxes in the next two years.

While H. B. 1351 was conceived to provide relief for Falls Township Board, it will be of assistance to Bridgeton, Tolickon Valley, East Rockhill, Hulmeville, and Bensalem School Boards.

The pressure exerted by Senator Edward B. Watson and Assemblymen Marvin Keller and William Yeakei in behalf of Lower Bucks is beginning to result in special action. Other bills must still be enacted into law if an unprecedented school crisis is to be avoided. One of the bills that is a must, will grant to municipal school authorities the same state aid as the State School Building Authority. Without such a law, thousands more children would be on half sessions by September, 1953.

Bracken Post Cadets To Hold Tag Days Here

At a recent meeting of the Robert W. Bracken Post Cadet Committee, it was voted to enter the Bracken Post Cadets in State Competition in Pittsburgh.

This will involve a four-day stay in Pittsburgh. In order to obtain necessary funds to send the Corps to Pittsburgh, it was decided to hold Tag Days on Thursday, Friday and Saturday throughout Bristol. The entire Cadet Corps will be in uniform throughout the town at various stores, banks, and factories. Residents are asked to help send your Corps to Pittsburgh to bring home the state championship.

Keeping Nails Well-Groomed

If nails are brittle and tend to split, apply a special cream designed for problem nails. Work cream into cuticle at base of nails every night.

By HELEN FOLLETT

TIME was when the members of the universal beautifying class polished their nails with a wan-looking pink powder and a buffer. It took considerable time and not much in the way of a change was accomplished. Then the liquid veneer appeared, causing great excitement. Many of the stand-patters were again it. A beauty fad that seems to have no ending. And why should it?

A soft rich, shining color. It makes lovely nails lovelier. It does a lot to glorify those that are not attractive in shape or size. It is the modern touch. Women who won't take the trouble to tint their talons appear to belong to the past. Why not keep up with the pageant?

Liquid polish makes the hands look clean and well taken care of. It is an important part of grooming, like the rosy coloring on the lips. Instead of making the nails brittle, as some women fancy, it serves as a protective agent and keeps them strong.

Colors this season are inclined to be lighter, more delicate than they have been in the past. Deep rose is a favorite and will look charming with those new summer frocks of yours. The blue reds have had a long run for color money and it's time for a change.

Before applying the rosy enamel, let it drain from the brush. Sweep the bristles from the base of the nail to the eave. Some girls believe that leaving the eaves white is a cute trick and so it is; they form a pretty border. Let the application dry, then make another one. Two light films will last longer than one heavy one.

Don't overlook the necessity of creaming the surrounding cuticle. Unless it is kept soft, free of the nail fabric, you may wake up some fine morning to find yourself beset with a flock of hangnails.

ried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, tea roses and baby breath.

A reception was held at the Taggart home for 25 guests from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston.

The bride is an alumnus of George School and on June 11th was graduated from Wellesley College, Mass. Dr. Chang received his medical education in China and is doing research work in Boston, where the two will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Yin C. Yu, the bride's parents, at the same time as the wedding ceremony here, entertained at a reception at a Hong Kong restaurant, 60 friends and relatives of the couple, who are not able to be at the wedding because of distance.

Yvette and her brothers have all been educated at George School. She is of the fourth generation of Christians to be educated in America. Her grandmother was the first president of the Y. W. C. A. in China, her great-aunt was the first woman physician in China, and her grandfather was chosen to dispense the funds in China following the Boxer Uprising. Her father was formerly head of the Chinese Bank of North and South America and at the present time is a prominent banker in Hong Kong.

ideas. He further charged that it was not unlawful to conduct in an American college and university a course explaining the philosophical theories set forth in the books which have been placed in evidence.

"Such a charge is in strict accord with the statutory language, and illustrates the meaning to be placed on those words. Congress did not intend to eradicate the free discussion of political theories, to destroy the traditional right of Americans to discuss and evaluate ideas without fear of government sanction."

"But although the statute is not directed at the hypothetical cases which petitioners have conjured, its application in this case has resulted in convictions for the teaching and advocacy of the overthrow of the Government by force and violence."

Following along that line of reasoning, the Chief Justice pointed out that freedom of speech "is not an unlimited, unqualified right," but one which "must, on occasion, be subordinated to other values and considerations." He quoted a famous dictum of Justice Holmes to the effect that the deciding question is whether the words used and the circumstances under which they are uttered are such as to "create a clear and present danger."

As to the degree of the danger, the opinion makes it clear that there does not need to be "any threat to the safety of the Republic," nor any need that the Government "must wait until the putsch is about to be executed, the plans have been laid, and the signal is awaited." On the contrary, the opinion says:

"If Government is aware that a group aiming at its overthrow is attempting to indoctrinate its members and to commit them to a course whereby they will strike when the leaders feel the circumstances permit, action by the Government is required."

Certain facts about this decision and its bearing upon the teaching profession are worthy of emphasis.

First, the Smith Act applies to all teachers everywhere, not merely those in public school or institutions supported in part by public funds.

Second, "academic discussions" which it permits must most conspicuously be intellectually honest, fair, unbiased, giving proper values to the inherited, classical concepts derived from our Constitution's evolutionary processes, just as much as to the shiny new starry-eyed isms so beloved by some of the current extremists.

Third, the threat to the government need not be direct and grave. Whatever undermines public faith and confidence in the constitutions of the various forms of government within this nation is intended to be prohibited from the country's classrooms.

Fourth, by strong implication, if indeed not by explicit statement, the opinion makes illegal the notorious "Communist-front" activities in which the support and encouragement of educators has been a sore spot seriously needing firm surgery.

The Vinson opinion will long be a most important document. Instructors in appropriate classes of high schools and colleges would do well to impress its old and new definitions upon the minds of their students. What is more, the whole teaching profession should study this document most carefully, for it represents a most healthy swing in the direction of free, republican principles at a time when propaganda is seeking to argue that there is no third alternative to communism or fascism.

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

George School

GEORGE SCHOOL, June 13—The $150,000 gift of Howard T. and Blanche N. Halliwell, of Jenkintown, announced at commencement on Saturday, was the second largest in the school's 58-year history and will become part of endowment from which scholarships will be awarded starting in 1952-53. Principal Richard McFeely reported today.

He pointed out that George School was particularly grateful to the Jenkintown family—he a former student at the school and head of Standard Pressed Steel Company—because of their earlier benefactions which led to establishment of the 200x44 foot fine and mechanical arts center named for Mr. Halliwell.

Scholarships will be awarded, ranging from $200 to $1,000 annually, with preference for students having an aptitude for and interests in studies or a career in the arts and sciences, or those looking forward to work in industrial engineering and management.

St. Francis Vocational School

EDDINGTON, June 13—The 1950-51 school year was finally written into history June 11th, when the underclassmen had their day. The class leaders in the 10th grade were: William Hogan, 89; Louis Baldwin, 88; Leroy P. Paris, 87; Victor Cook, 86, and William Hag-an, 85. In the ninth grade: Eugene Wicks, 94; Wilbur Even and Anthony Lynch, 92; Edward Tracey, 87, and Richard Scanton, 85, led at the finish. Joseph Connor, who also won the American Legion annual award, led the 8th grade with 92%. He was followed by Francis Whitcomb, 89; Joseph Kraus, 88; John Yaroch, 87, and Charles Bow-ers, 84, in that order. The 7th grade contributed John Green, 94; Leopold Superer, 93; William De-lyne, 92; Ronald Matting, 89; and Anthony Razzano, 89. In the 6th grade, Thomas Cahill, 91; Edgar Crawley, 91; James Shaughnessy, 90; William Green, 88, and Eugene Connor (brother of the leader in the eighth grade), 86, were on top. William Green is also a brother of the head man in the 7th grade.

There will be a summer school during vacation months but it will be of a more informal and leisurely kind than during the regular school year.

Many of the boys of the junior division look forward to being promoted to the senior group. The younger boys who remain where they are look forward to seeing new faces in a few days as the annual group of newcomers hails from St. Johns. The annual visit to Wood-side Park is to be today.

Can you beat this measure of car value?

Of standard-built cars used as taxicabs, there are far more Plymouths than any other make...in fact, there are more Plymouths than all other makes combined!

Those who own taxicabs are experts on car value. They have to be! Their very living depends on their judgment in selecting the right car.

This selection is not made on "hunch" or "sentiment" or loyalty to any make.

In the cold light of fact, taxicab owners test all makes of cars for everything—roominess, riding comfort, handling ease, braking action, maintenance cost, day-and-night dependability—everything!

As the result of these continuous tests, the overwhelming majority of taxicab owners say: "The car for our money is Plymouth!"

Isn't this pretty convincing proof that Plymouth is the car for your money, too? But you don't have to take somebody else's word for it. Your Plymouth dealer will gladly arrange a demonstration now. Then you can put the Plymouth through your own tests and see for yourself.

Shopping for New Perfume

Good choice for everyday wear is a perfume with the delicate scent of spring violets. Apply at ear lobes, wrists, before going out.

By HELEN FOLLETT

GOOD taste is the directing influence that builds a pleasing appearance. It tells a woman what kind of clothes she should wear, when and where she should wear them. It has a lot to do when she selects a perfume. A fastidious nose will take to sweet and subtle scents and no other kind will do.

Some perfumes are like some new acquaintances; they make an elegant impression at the first meeting, then become uninteresting. When you have made your decision, stick to the same item. Your entire wardrobe will become impregnated with it in course of time.

If you would economize, do not overlook sachets. They are wonderful buys. The next time you do your beauty shopping, hang around the cosmetic counter, give these fragrant items a look-see. They come in attractive forms. You don't have to play a needle, make little satin bags as your

Cast Being Readied For "Late Christopher Bean"

LANGHORNE, June 13 — The Haggert household is pretty upset these days, with Dr. Haggert himself admitting he's "a desperate man." Mrs. Haggert is no comfort to her husband—and she and Abby just don't get along. Now in real life they're pretty good friends, because Charles Cooley is Dr. Haggert; Edie Benedict is Mrs. Haggert; and Ruth Brown is Abby. The place where they have their disagreements is the stage of the Langhorne Players New Barn. The play is "The Late Christopher Bean," directed by Daniel S. Grenier, to be given on June 20th, 22nd and 23rd.

Charles Cooley is well known to Langhorne audiences for his various character parts. Last season he was, among others, the surprising sheriff in "Cuckoos on the Heath," the bewildered Bishop in "See How They Run," the irate Mr. Carver in "Three Men on a Horse" and most recently as Uncle Stanley in "George Washington Slept Here." The role of Dr. Haggert is probably the largest part he has done so far and is a good test of his abilities. Edie Benedict, as Mrs. Haggert, is up to her old tricks of squabbling with Ruth Brown. They got along pretty good as the bawdy sisters in "Ladies in Retirement," but in "See How They Run" Ruth, as the maid Ida, spent most of her time putting Edie, as the tipsy Miss Skillion, back in the cupboard. And now Ruth, as Abby, the maid of all work, employed by the Haggerts for the past 14 years, is just not seeing eye to eye with her again.

The rest of the cast were all in "George Washington Slept Here," except that Althea Robillard was unseen in the prompter's seat. This is her first stage appearance as the petulant Ada Haggert. Mabel Hickie is the love interest again as the likeable Susie Haggert who has a real yearning for Tom Lochran as Warren Creamer. When the plot begins to thicken, three other characters enter—John Foreman as the tricky Tallant; Michael Yanza as the dubious Mr. Rosen, a gentleman whose accent suggests his persuasion; and George Tibbets (a newcomer to the group from Bristol) as the honest art critic, Mr. Davenport, a more restful part than his last role as the irate Mr. Prescott.

Curtain time will be 8:30 p. m.

Sick?

Some people never look up until God lays them on their back. It sometimes takes a serious illness or other difficulty to get them to train their eyes heavenward.

To be sick and not to be brought closer to God, is to be doubly sick. But to be sick and in that sickness to find yourself being drawn closer to the comforts of Christ's Gospel, is to be blessed in the middle of your affliction.

Someone has said: "In sickness let me not so much ask, Am I getting better from my pain, as, Am I getting better for it?" We shall become better for our pain only in the measure in which it drives us closer to Christ for comfort and strength. He is "the Lord that healeth us" both in soul and body. (Exodus 15, 26.) Daily searching of the Scriptures will provide you with needed soul medicine and give you strength to overcome any bodily ailment.

MINISTER'S WIFE TELLS HOW HADACOL WAS SO HELPFUL

HADACOL Helps Folks With Weak, Run-Down Conditions, Poor Appetite, When Caused by Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

A weak, run-down condition can make life mighty draa for folks who feel that way. Imagine not having a good appetite. Loss of weight and energy oftentimes accompany this condition. When Mrs. Ardene Longaker, a minister's wife, who lives at Rt. 5, Meadowbrook Rd., North Kansas City, Mo., began feeling that way she began taking HADACOL for she had heard how it was helping people with weak, run-down conditions and poor appetite, when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron. Now, Mrs. Longaker says she feels good and is recommending HADACOL to her friends.

Here is what she says: "I am a minister's wife and am 39 years old. I was run-down, lost weight, was listless, and had no appetite at all. I'm on my fifth bottle now and am amazed at the results. I want to eat all the time now. Most of all, I'm glad to say, I've gained several pounds. HADACOL is so economical. I believe almost anyone can afford it, and I do recommend it to my friends."

HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of weak, run-down conditions, stomach distress, nervousness, poor appetite and nagging aches and pains when due to the lack of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning when caused by such deficiencies. Now that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once.

And HADACOL's wonderful Vitamins and Minerals come in a special pleasant liquid form so they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work at once.

HADACOL IS SO EFFECTIVE Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body.

You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamins and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today. You be the judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee.

So be fair to yourself. Don't go through life suffering from these conditions when caused by lack of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron, when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drug store.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES
There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Aeromodelers To Meet At Flying Field Tonight

Aeromodelers members will meet this evening for an outdoor flying session at the model airport on Route 13. Models of many types are expected to be flown. It is expected that combat events similar to those held by other nearby clubs will soon be held by the Aeromodelers. These events consist of flying control line models, several at a time, with paper streamers trailing behind them while each pilot endeavors to cut the streamer of another model by some sort of maneuver while the other pilot tries to outmaneuver and evade such an attack.

Aeromodelers members will compete in various events at a large contest at Millville, N. J., Sunday. Ninety-one trophies will be awarded. This is the 15th annual meet of its type for Millville.

Following this will be major model competitions each Sunday at nearby cities until late September. Each Sunday is booked for a sanctioned meet and will be the most active competition season ever known to model fliers.

KAISER DEFEATS SECOND WARD BY SCORE OF 10 TO 9

Kaiser Metal and Second Ward engaged in a scoring spree on the Estates' field last evening as the Kaisermen finally won out, 10-9, in a Bristol Softball League fray. The defeat dropped Second Ward into the cellar of the league.

The Kaiser team captured the game by registering four markers in the fifth when "Chick" Stansky had a streak of wildness and passed four batters. The only Kaiser hit in this frame was a double by "Jobby" Dugan.

Claude Deitzler was the winning moundsman. He yielded seven runs in the second inning on four hits, a walk, and three errors. Deitzler settled down to pitch good ball the remainder of the game.

The Warders passed up a good chance to knot the count in the final inning when Sam Sottile opened with a double. Joe Sallustio sent a long fly to center which Bert Miles caught and then doubled Sottile off second.

RECIPES

CRUNCHY-TOPPED PEACHES

2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup peach syrup
8 canned peach halves
3/4 cup "bite-size" shredded wheat biscuits.

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in an 8-inch baking dish. Remove from heat. Mix in 2 tablespoons brown sugar and the peach syrup. Place peaches cut side up in syrup mixture. Put biscuits in center of peaches. Sprinkle the 2 tablespoons brown sugar over biscuits. Dot with the remaining 1 tablespoon butter. Bake on oven rack slightly above center in moderately slow oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes, or until biscuits are light brown. Serve warm or cold with the sauce. Makes 4 servings.

PROTECT WOOLEN ITEMS WELL FROM DAMAGE BY MOTHS

By Frances Vannoy

Home Economics Extension Representative

Warm weather is the time clothes moths like to feed on woollens if they can find them. To prevent any possible damage from moths, store carefully the woollens you won't be using during the summer.

Never store woollens that are not spotlessly clean. Garments that do not need dry cleaning or washing may be hung in the sunlight and brushed thoroughly to remove all lint from seams, pockets, cuffs, and folds. These are excellent hiding places for moths to lay eggs and for young larvae to feed on wool.

After clothes have been cleaned, washed, or aired, put them in moth-proof chests or closets or in sealed boxes or bags to keep them free from moths.

If you put garments in a cedar chest, sprinkle moth crystals between the folds for added protection. If you wrap woollens in paper, use heavy paper and liberal quantities of moth crystals. Seal the ends of the packages with gummed tape.

Make sure that the closets and shelves where you put the boxes or garment bags are clean. Spraying with a moth preventative is an extra safety measure. However, moth sprays are not effective for very long if the closet is opened frequently. Vacuum cleaner de-mothing attachments are excellent for distributing the crystals or fumigant more thoroughly.

Wool garments that will be used during the summer should be inspected at intervals to make sure moths do not make a surprise visit.
